

COLLECTION OF BERLIN'S FINE HINGES ON U. S.

President Harding Is Decisive
Factor in the Final Settlement.

ASK U. S. COOPERATION

British Note to America Will Explain Plans and Purposes of Allies.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The United States is regarded as the pivot nation in settling
the German reparations problem it was revealed here Thursday.

Count Storza, Italian foreign minister, informed his delegation that President Harding will become the decisive factor in the final settlement.
He gave two reasons:

Coblenz probably will remain in direct contact with Germany.

The allies will not take the chance of establishing a customs line among the German side of the American area.
Therefore Germany could route cargoes from Coblenz to neutral ports
under the American flag.

One solution, Storza said, would be the withdrawal of American troops
but that would have an adverse effect
both on the allies and Germany.

The other solution he said, would be the opening of the American bridge-
head to the allied customs line.

Ask U. S. Cooperation

America probably will be asked to cooperate fully with the allies in using compulsory measures along the Rhine, in a note being drafted by the British foreign office. The note is expected to explain fully the allied decision to extend occupation of Germany and establish a customs barrier. The allies will "assume that the United States will cooperate."

The preparation of the note was one more step in allied efforts to clarify
the situation. Steps already taken include:

A definite statement from Premier Briand that France does not intend occupation as a prelude to annexation.

The preparation of a British bill providing for the collection of a 50
per cent tax on German exports.

Arrangements to submit identical
bills in the Italian, French and Japanese chambers.

A declaration from Marshal Foch
on the military status of the newly occupied territory.

Show Willingness to Pay

The occupation of the Ruhr territory
will continue only until Germany
gives definite signs of agreeing to the allies reparations plans and disarmament
demands and surrendering war
criminals for trial.

Assignment of the problems of establishing a workable customs line to a committee of experts.

The British admiralty Thursday issued a denial of a report from Berlin
that British warships had been sighted off Cuxhaven. It was stated that the nearest battleships were at Copenhagen.

The allied leaders continued in session devoting most of their attention to the Austrian and Near East situations.

UTICA MAYOR GOES AFTER LANDLORDS

By United Press Leased Wire
Utica, N. Y.—James K. O'Connor,
the "fighting mayor" of Utica, Thursday launched a drive against profiteering landlords.

"We'll give these lying, thieving,
profiteering landlords a dose of their own medicine," O'Connor told the United Press.

The city of Utica plans to get at the landlords through their wallets.
It mayors of other cities throughout the United States would start similar drives, O'Connor believes the profiteering landlord would become practically extinct.

The mayor explained his plan as follows:

"In case a landlord raises a tenant's rent exorbitantly, say 80 per cent, the tax assessor will compute
the value of the property on the basis
of ten years' rental at the increased figure.

Informal Discussion Throws Much Light On City Bridge Problem

ALLIES TRYING TO PULL U. S. IN NATIONS LEAGUE

Seek American Cooperation in Establishing Customs Line
Along Rhine.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The allies are bringing great pressure on President Harding to force America into a modified league of nations, it was apparent Thursday.

High government officials Thursday
refused to comment on reports that France had actually requested Harding to bring the United States into a modified league and that negotiations were in progress between the French embassy and the state department.

The report that the allies were bringing pressure on America to join such a league came after a number of other developments which centered attention on the steps being taken by Europe to gain the cooperation of the United States.

What Allies Want

1.—The allies want the United States
to cooperate in establishing a custom line along the Rhine through the American bridgehead at Coblenz and probably will send a diplomatic note
asking this country's attitude.

2.—The Russian Red Cross has formally appealed to Harding to assist in the anti-bolshevik revolution now in progress by sending food to the White forces. This may force the administration to make known its Russian policy very soon.

3.—An agitation has been started in German quarters to have Germany assume the allied debt to America instead of paying further reparations to the allies. It is believed the United States treasury would oppose this. It would put America in the position of collecting the allied debt from Germany.

MURDER SYNDICATE TERRORIZES SPAIN

By United Press Leased Wire
Madrid.—Foreign Minister Marquis
Lema has been marked for death by the syndicalist assassins who killed
Premier Dato.

His name, coupled with the announcement that he would be slain
next, was found Thursday chalked
on the walls of the hippodrome.

Fifty arrests have been made in the hunt for Dato's assassins. The aristocratic Neuvo club has offered 50,000 pesetas for their apprehension.

The activities of the syndicalists struck terror into the homes of Spain's aristocrats and government officials Thursday. The syndicalist organization is so mysterious that its members are unknown even to each other.

Utmost precautions were taken Thursday to guard all prominent persons. Hundreds of persons were held up by police and forced to give account of themselves and their movements.

Russ Revolt Nearly As Widespread As 1917 Coup

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The Russian revolution is rapidly attaining the proportions of the 1917 coup which overthrew czarism, according to messages delivered to former Premier Kerensky here Thursday.

Advices reaching Kerensky said
eastern Siberia is in revolt, the activity centering in Omsk and Tomsk.

The dispatches were handed Kerensky by courier.

"Messages dated Tuesday inform me that the rebels have seized Pskov,
south of Petrograd, and that the revolt is rapidly radiating from Petrograd," Kerensky said.

"Much of the province of Novogor-od, between Moscow and Petrograd, is in rebel hands. The city of Novogor-od may have fallen now. Our detachments are known to be enroute to the railway junction of Bologoya, half way between Petrograd and Moscow.

"Petrograd garrisons, including Krasnaya Gorda, have yielded and there is bitter fighting in Petrograd.

"The convenience of American tourists also was considered.

The conference, an off-shoot of the league of nations, was not attended by an American representative. It was believed the conference will be able to end all travel restrictions imposed by the world war.

Through the creation of an international communication with headquarters at Geneva it was believed a return of present confusion in traffic
would be prevented.

sided at the opening session.

HUGE DECREASE IN STEEL FIRM OUTPUT

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—United States steel tonnage decreased 639,297 tons, it was announced Thursday by the United States Steel corporation.

The unfiled tonnage on Feb. 28
was 6,933,867 as against 7,573,164 on
Jan. 31 and 8,145,122 on December
31. Last and 9,922,951 on Feb. 29,

ROOT WILL BE HARDING'S COL. HOUSE ABROAD

New York Statesman Is Asked
to Assist in Shaping Foreign Policy.

TO NEGOTIATE ON LEAGUE

Former Secretary of State Believes Much of Present League Should Be Kept.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921
Washington, D. C.—President Harding has asked Elihu Root to assist in shaping the policy of the United States toward Europe particularly in connection with the association of nations.

Whether Mr. Root will go abroad as head of a special mission or will stay
on this side as the American delegate to an international conference of diplomats is undetermined but the chances are that Mr. Root will sail for Europe just as soon as the Harding administration is ready to take the European governments into its confidence.

While this kind of negotiation ordinarily would be conducted by American ambassadors and ministers abroad, all of them were appointed by the Wilson administration and it is not feasible to put into the hands of the new appointees such a delicate task until they have had a chance to be on the ground long enough to familiarize themselves with European conditions.

Elihu Root, on the other hand,
spent many months in Europe last summer in connection with the making of the international court of justice, and he already has had all the background and knowledge necessary
to negotiate with foreign governments.
Not only has he been secretary of state but he represented the United States at the Second Hague conference and is perhaps the best equipped American today to deal with international lawyers, diplomats and treaty experts.

Friendly to League

Of course Mr. Root is friendly to the existing league of nations and while he never did subscribe to the covenant, advocating reservations
similar to those proposed by Senator Lodge, he does believe that much of the machinery of the present league
can be maintained. Mr. Root, moreover, wrote the Republican national convention's platform on foreign policy pledging the Republican administration to an agreement with other nations covering the same general purposes as were sought by the covenant.

The appointment of Elihu Root, therefore, to negotiate with Europe is merely the logical sequence of events
in Republican policy and while Mr.
Root has not changed his opinions in any way concerning the need for international cooperation through some such instrumentality as the covenant,
he would endeavor to obtain an agreement with Europe that will relieve the United States of any obligations, direct or indirect, to take up arms in European questions or that will plunge the United States into the maelstrom of European politics.

New League Is Possible

There are those who believe Mr.
Root would be able to frame an entirely new association of nations and reconstruct the whole machinery of international intercourse on political questions as differentiated from judicial questions but on that point nobody here can do any more than conjecture for the opinions of European governments are being held in reserve, waiting, indeed, to examine the American proposals.

The sending of Mr. Root along with other distinguished Americans is expected to be a much more informal errand than was undertaken by the American peace commission of which President Wilson was a member. The Harding commission would investigate
the opportunities for coming to an understanding and would bring back for the approval of the chief executive all the data necessary to formulate American policy which in turn would be submitted to the senate before any agreement would be finally closed with the other governments of the world.

Meanwhile, the desire to side-track foreign questions and handle domestic problems is for the moment not succeeding very well.

PANAMA REJECTS WHITE DECISION ON LAND CASE

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Panama has informed the United States it will not recognize the award of the Coto territory
to Costa Rica, made by Chief Justice
White of the supreme court.

This was Panama's answer to the American note of warning that hostilities with Costa Rica over the disputed territory must cease that the White award must be lived up to.

The Panamanian answer was made public at the state department Thursday.

The Panamanian note also reserves
the right of Panama to claim an indemnify from Costa Rica for the invasion of Panama.

Miss Diana Zuesman, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis
in St. Elizabeth hospital several days ago, is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Putnam,
Franklin, Ind., left Thursday morning
for Detroit, Mich., where they will attend the funeral of a relative.

Harvey Named Ambassador To British Court

George Harvey

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Colonel George Harvey has been named ambassador to London. President Harding offered Harvey the post and Harvey accepted
although official announcement of the appointment will not be made until
other diplomatic posts are filled.

Frank Munsey, mentioned promi-nently for the post, withdrew his candidacy a few days ago. Strong pressure was brought upon the president for appointment of James Beck
and Cornelius Vanderbilt, but Harvey overruled the presentations in his behalf.

Colonel Harvey is in Washington
now, staying with friends.

SELF DEFENSE WILL BE PLEA OF CLARA SMITH

Selection of Jury to Try Alleged Slayer of Jake Hamon
Nearly Completed.

DEFENDANT KEEPS NERVE

Want Jury Which Will Not Regard Hamon Reputation
in Its Verdict.

By United Press Leased Wire
Courtroom, Ardmore, Okla.—
Speedy justice will be meted out to Clara Smith Hamon, it was assured Thursday when a tentative jury had been selected within three hours after her trial on the charge of murdering Jake Hamon started.

Judging from the speed in picking
the tentative jury, both the defense
and the prosecution are determined to get it over quickly.

It seemed certain that the final jury will be selected Thursday and the taking of testimony will begin Friday.

All challenges for cause were completed when court adjourned for lunch. All that was left were peremp-tory challenges.

The defendant charged with the murder of the rich and powerful Hamon, registered the nerve which she seemed to have lost when she entered the courtroom, as the trial progressed.

At first she nervously twitched, bit
her finger nails and moved restlessly
in her seat.

"I was horribly frightened this morning," she said, as she went out of the courtroom with her sister, Mrs.
Van James of Los Angeles, and her mother, Mrs. James Smith, of El Paso.

"But I must not give way, I went again. I have played all morning that the Lord would guide in the selection
of men who are to decide my future."

Preliminary grilling were more severe by J. B. Champion, twin brother of Judge Champion, who is a counsel
for the defense, than by the state Champion always opened his examination with this question:

"Do you believe in the law of defense?"

This lead to the assumption that self-defense will be Clara's way out.
He also questioned all jurors if they had any connection with the Hamon interests.

The state's examination of jurors
was conducted by Attorney General Freeling and H. E. Brown. The state's leading question was if it would make any difference to the juror in reaching a verdict, if Jake
L. Hamon was a bad man and disloyal to his family. It is doubtful whether "Ropes" O'Brien will be able to get in the case. The man Mrs.
Hamon hired to avenge the death of her husband sat at the press table all morning. Freeling said he did not think O'Brien would be included in the state's counsel. The decision lies with the attorney general.

SPECIAL SESSION TO START APRIL 4

Railroad Problem Will Receive
Attention When Congress
Convenes.

Washington.—The special session of congress will meet April 4, Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee, announced Thursday following a conference with President Harding.

Fordney said it was still undecided
whether tariff or revenue would be taken up first.

An investigation of the railroad situation will be sought immediately upon the convening of the special session, Senator Cummins, Iowa, announced Thursday after a conference with the President.

Dissatisfaction of railroads' employees with wage cuts, complaints of shippers at high rates and pleas of railroad managers that many lines
are facing bankruptcy have been before the Harding's attention.

PACKER PLANT WORKERS WILL VOTE ON STRIKE

Order to Quit Will Be Held in Abeysance Until Harding
Has Time to Act.

SEEK RESTRAINING ORDER

Yard Workers Ask Federal Judge to Halt Abrogation
of National Agreement.

By United Press Leased Wire
Omaha, Neb.—A strike vote will be taken by employees of packing plants
of the United States and Canada immediately. The referendum will be completed by Monday. It will be on the question of authorizing officials of the union to call a strike. The strike will not be called until President Harding has had no opportunity to act on the appeal by the union leaders who asked him to intercede in the dispute between packers and their employees over a cut in wages and abolishment of the basic eight hour
day.

Dennis Lane, international secretary-treasurer of the union of packers, employees, said that the general conference of Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers workmen in session here decided Thursday to start the strike vote immediately.

"A strike will not be called, however, until efforts by peaceable methods to force the packers to comply with the agreement made during the war are exhausted," Lane said.

"Packer employees will not go back to the 10-hour day."

Asks Restraining Order

Richmond Brennan, counsel for the butcher workmen, announced he will leave for Chicago tonight and ask Federal Judge Alschuler for an order restraining the "Big Five" from putting the proposed wage cut and abrogation of the national agreement
into effect.

The vote will be taken as ordered.
Lane said, but no strike will be called
until the courts have acted.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was asked to present the workers' side of the situation to Harding.

Sentiment among the union leaders
as expressed in the meeting, favored a strike, Lane stated.

Workers Investigation

The workers representatives asked Harding to appeal to the packers to hold in abeyance the readjustment in wages and hours of work, scheduled to go into effect Monday, until the secretary of labor could investigate charges made by the union heads that the packers were attempting to force
a strike.

A conference of other trades, employed by packers, including electricians, steam fitters, plumbers and carpenters, will be held in Chicago
next week to consider the situation
and the question of a general strike
of all packing house employees decided.

Estimates place the number of unionized men in the packing industry at approximately 100,000. These are located mainly at Chicago, Omaha,
Kansas City, St. Paul, Sioux City,
Buffalo, St. Louis, Fort Worth, Denver, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Oklahoma City, Jersey City, Wichita, Louisville, Baltimore, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Francisco, Portland, Salt
Lake City, New Orleans and St.
Joseph.

SENATE POSTPONES LATIN PACT ACTION

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The senate Thursday
postponed consideration of the Columbian treaty until the special session
of congress which will meet in April.
Upon this treaty a considerable section of the republican wing in the senate differs with Harding, who Wednesday sent as his first message
a request that the pact be ratified quickly. He did this within a few hours after he was warned by Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, one of the treaty's spills, that to press it would mean a split in the party in the senate.

Lodge wants secret consideration of the pact, Borah, Johnson, Kellogg and others want it in the open. They hope to bring out the reason for Lodge's change of mind on the treaty.

MINNESOTA GIVES CORN TO CHINESE SUFFERERS

St. Paul.—Two solid trainloads of corn are the gift of Minnesota farmers to save the lives of famine victims abroad.

In a call sent out Thursday, the Minnesota farm bureau federation set 1,700,000 bushels as the possible amount Minnesota farmers can give.
Every corn producing county in the state was solicited.

County farm organizations in 45
counties were urged to set aside "corn relief" days when all farmers will haul
their gift of corn to a central railroad station and load it in cars bearing
"Minnesota farmers' corn relief" banners. The corn will travel free from the county station to the famine area
the federation announced. Railroad brotherhoods give their time free and railroads have promised trains without charge. Elevator men and millers have agreed to handle it without charge.

Four relief organizations fighting famine horror in Europe and Asia will attend to distribution of the corn devoted.

MAID THREATENED IF SHE TELLS ON MISTRESS

New York.—"If you ever say anything about my character, I'll follow
you to hell," Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes
once said to Anna Brennan, a maid,
the latter testified Thursday in the trial of Stokes' suit for divorce and Brennan, who was employed at the Stokes home from June 1918 until January, 1919, described an alleged episode which occurred while Stokes
was away from home.

The "lunge" showed little water, indicating death from causes other than drowning, but the body was in such condition an examination could be made.

The boy wore clothes of light texture, which leads officials to believe he was thrown into the quarry last fall or early winter.

GIRL BLAMES MOTHER FOR SUICIDE ATTEMPT

By United Press Leased Wire

Court of honor—William R. Harwood, Dr. C. D. Boyd and the Rev. E. L. Worthman.

It was voted to have a banquet at the vocational school Wednesday, April 6, for all members of the council. The banquet will be held at 6:30 after which a discussion of plans for the good of the boy scout movement will be held.

Student Recital

Plans for a recital to be given by the music students of Sister Gabriel of St. Mary school are nearly complete. Because of the number of students it will be necessary to give two recitals; one will be held on the Friday after Easter and the other on the Sunday after Easter. It is planned to use St. Mary auditorium for the recitals. Over 100 students will take part.

Splendid School Record

Report cards for pupils of Nicolett school were issued Wednesday. In all of the grades there were 23 pupils who received special merits. During the month of February there were 126 pupils neither absent nor tardy. The third grade leads with 21 pupils neither absent nor tardy and the fifth grade comes second with 20 pupils. Special merits are given to those with an average of 90 or above in all studies. The record of each grade is as follows:

Sixth grade, 15 neither absent nor tardy: Alice Weidenhaupt, Gilbert Starke, Naomi Pecker, Iis Nagel and Carlton Tretin, special merits.

Third grade, 21 with perfect attendance: Wilbur Haass, Gordon Nikolson, Ruth Bronchek, LeRoy Seifert and Gladys Heimke, special merits.

First grade, 17 with perfect attendance: Lucille Johnson, Wallace Mooney, Akta Pahl and Hele Starke, special merits.

Fifth grade, 20 neither absent nor tardy: Carol Weidenbach, Lucile Haas and Rachel Schussman, special merits.

Second grade, 14 with perfect attendance: Mildred Berner, Vivian Firehammer and Lloyd Welch, special merits.

Seventh grade, 15 with perfect attendance: Dorothy Haass, special merit.

Fourth grade, 12 neither absent nor tardy: Dorothy Golden, Mabel Look, special merits.

Eighth grade, 15 with perfect attendance, no special merits.

STUDENTS PREPARE
TO PRESENT PLAY

"Windmills of Holland," a Two-Act Operetta, to Be Offered Soon.

Kaukauna — "The Windmills of Holland," a two act comedy operetta, will be given by the students of the high school in the auditorium Friday evening, April 15. Rehearsals under the direction of Miss Edna Ruff, music supervisor of the schools, are being held daily, and the operetta is rapidly becoming presentable.

The play takes in Dutch scenes and costumes. Distinctive stage settings will be prepared to give the Dutch atmosphere to the play, and bright colored costumes for the players will also tend to take the audience to the land of windmills.

A strain of romance throughout the whole operetta gives it a very desirable finishing touch. It seems that Wilhelmmina, who is Elizabeth Donaldson, is a very eligible young lady and Bob Yankee, an American salesman, who is Fred Mueller, does not hesitate to show his feeling toward the Dutch girl. But there is another who would gladly lead the fair Wilhelmmina through life with him. He is none other than Isador Norton who takes the part of the Dutch boy "Hans." In the end Hans, who is a diligent student of music and a much more diligent lover, triumphs over the handsome foreigner. The cast is as follows:

Greek, In U.S.
Few Days, Is
School Papil

Theodore Nistras enrolled Thursday as a student of the Appleton Vocational school. The young man arrived from Greece March 6, after having left Paris, France, February 14. In spite of the short time he has been in this country, he speaks fairly good English. He carries a Greek-English dictionary with him and uses it frequently.

Nistras will be 18 years old March 18. He has had schooling equivalent to an American high school education and is well versed in the tangles of trigonometry.

The young man said his relatives were not in the armies during the war but were forced to break stones for road making. The section of Greece in which Nistras lived was under the control of Turkey until after the war, and the Turks did not force the Greeks to fight for fear they would take advantage of the opportunity and turn upon them.

TAKE OPTION ON LOCATION FOR OIL
FILLING STATIONGeorge Walter Brewing Co.
Rapidly Disposing of Its Property.

The United Consumers Corporation of Milwaukee has just taken a 30-day option on the Eggert Hotel property at 855 Appleton-st., formerly known as the Crescent house, with the intention of putting in a filling station.

The property belongs to George Walter Brewing Co., and the option was granted on the part of the company by Nic Dohr, manager, who said the United Consumers Corporation is the one that bought their Hotel Seymour property on which it is now erecting a handsome structure.

It is understood if the company takes the property, and there is every indication that it will, it will install a considerable sum in a new building and in fitting up the grounds.

The George Walter Brewing Co. has also just sold its business block at 729 College-ave., occupied by Peter Van Roy to a man named Gode, who recently moved here from Iron Mountain, Mich. The consideration was private. The new owner will be given possession July 1, 1921.

NEED LEADERS FOR GIRL ORGANIZATIONS

Eleven Groups of Camp Fire Girls and Girl Scouts Have Been Formed.

Eleven groups of Camp Fire girls and girl scouts are in operation under the auspices of the Appleton Women's club, six of which have been organized since the formation of the Girls Leaders' council. This represents one month's growth.

There are four Camp Fires in the First ward, Miss Margaret Nicholson is the leader of the Wahpquetoas who meet Saturday afternoons. The "Winnebagoes" under Miss Kippinham meet at 7 o'clock Thursday evenings.

A group under the leadership of Miss Pauline Burbank is still seeking a suitable name. It meets Wednesday. A newly formed circle is to meet under the leadership of Miss Ruby Johnson this week for organization.

Two Camp Fires have been organized among girls of the Lincoln school, one under Miss Dorothy Williams, meeting Wednesday afternoons, and the other under Miss Marie Rulenz, meeting Tuesday afternoons. The latter group is known as the "Bluebirds."

Miss Laura Rogers has organized a camp, the Witawentins at the Fifth ward school. The meet Monday afternoons.

A high school group under the direction of Miss Irene Heiss meets at 7:30 Saturday evening in the club room.

Troop 1 of the Girl Scouts meets from 5:15 until 6:15 Friday afternoon in Columbia hall. The Misses Eleanor Halls and Muriel Kelly are the leaders for this group.

Mrs. N. Lawson and Miss Minette Ellis are leaders for Girl Scout Troop No. 2. The junior troop meets Wednesday afternoon and the senior troop meets Monday evening.

Many other groups of girls are ready to organize but are waiting for volunteer leaders. The reserve stock of leaders has been exhausted and the directors of the department are searching for more. College girls have been very generous with their time but as they will be leaving the city in June, it is necessary that a number of Appleton girls volunteer.

Both the Camp Fire and the Girl Scout takes the girls from the ages of 10 and 13 when they are most enthusiastic and when their habits are most easily formed.

The work of the two organizations is to be demonstrated at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the high school gymnasium when the work of the two will be put on for girls between the ages of 10 and 13 and all young women who are interested in becoming leaders. The party is not a public affair but for those who are interested enough to join or to become leaders. Doors will be opened at 2:15 and the program will commence at 2:30 sharp.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—
When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister. As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house, ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frost-bitten feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

No Sympathy For Watchdog Of Treasury

Many comments are heard among farmers about a communication published by C. B. Ballard, chairman of the town of Grand Chute, telling how $400 was saved the county by refusing to pay P. W. Silverwood, the amount above the legal limit. "When we realize the service rendered by Mr. Silverwood, we are glad to pay the bill," said one prominent farmer. "If a man is assigned a task which requires more money than the law allows, there should be a way to reimburse him. How can the county accomplish any task of any size if there is no way to compensate those who do it?"

The farmer said it would cost the taxpayers about a cent apiece to pay the $400 in question, and nobody therefore would object. He also said that if Mr. Silverwood had not been so willing to concede to the demands of his objectors, he believed Mr. Ballard would have brought a lawsuit costing many times the $400 providing the town of Grand Chute or somebody else would back him.

RECEIVE ENTRIES FOR CITY BASKET TOURNEY

Several entries have been received for the city basketball championship at the Y. M. C. A. March 15, 16, 18, 19. All schools, organizations and amateur city teams, besides the teams of the industrial league, are eligible to compete.

Entries are also being tabulated for the invitation bowling tournament which will be held on Y. M. C. A. alleys next week. Prizes will be awarded in 5-man events, singles and doubles. First, second and third highest teams will receive prizes. Three highest average scores and three highest scores will be awarded prizes.

FORMER STUDENT GIVES PRIZE FOR JOURNALISM

A shield has been presented to Lawrence College by Charles Champion of Gladstone, Mich., a former Lawrence student, to be awarded for meritorious work on the "Lawrentian." The shield is made of wood with a large silver engraved plate about ten inches high. The student senate is to select the winner.

The Champion cup, which Mr. Champion presents annually to the best all-around man and athlete, has also arrived.

DIDN'T COST MUCH TO KEEP HIGHWAYS OPEN

Only a small portion of the $3,000 appropriated by the county board at the November session for keeping the improved highways free from snow this winter has so far been used and it begins to look as if there would be no further expense in this direction. The pay roll and the necessary machinery required to do the work has cost the county less than one-fourth of the amount appropriated.

Mrs. G. L. Rogers and daughter Jane of Boston, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Edward Rogers, 840 Clark-st.

WOMEN DO WONDERS WITH DIAMOND DYES

"Diamond Dyes" Never Spot, Fade Or Give That "Dyed-Look"

Appleton women can dye anything with a package of Diamond Dyes. Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry
For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it. You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Only Five Former Mayors Still Among The Living

Twenty-seven Have Occupied City's Executive Chair Since 1854.

Of the 27 mayors who held office since Amos Storey took the oath of office in 1854, when the city government was organized, only five are living. David Hammel, B. C. Wolter, August Knuppel, the Rev. John Faville and J. A. Hawes, incumbent.

David Hammel was elected mayor on the Democratic ticket and held the office during the years 1900-1903-04. The waterworks question was then the principal issue and thousands of dollars were spent in litigation. The enmity between the mayor and Venable, owner of the waterworks plant, was mutual and many a stormy session of the council was held when standing room was at a premium.

Hawes Was Manager
A coincidence was that Mayor J. A. Hawes was manager of the waterworks plant at the time and was more familiar with it than anyone else. The waterworks office was located in one of the rear stores of the Odd Fellows' block. The plant was not taken over by the city until several years after Mayor Hammel had retired from office. One of the permanent improvements made during his regime was the building of John st. bridge.

Mr. Hammel was succeeded in office by R. C. Wolter who served as mayor in 1905 and 1909. The stormy sessions subsided during his administration and advancement was made in the way of street improvements and otherwise.

August Knuppel took up the reins of city government in 1915 and was mayor for two years. He succeeded the late Dr. James V. Canavan who was mayor at the time the commission form of government went into effect. Mr. Knuppel was the first contractor and builder to hold the office and took a personal interest in all city work.

Prohibition Was Issue
The Rev. John Faville was also elected mayor while the commission form of government was in effect but did not serve out his term, the city deciding to go back to the aldermanic form of government. The prohibition question was the principal issue during the Rev. Faville's administration and figured in the campaign of the special election that followed.

J. A. Hawes has been mayor since 1918. The high cost of material and labor and the increase in salaries of city employees and school teachers have not permitted of extensive permanent improvements being made during the time he has been in office although considerable work has been planned. The issue that confronts him and the taxpayers at present is the school question, the best method of relieving the congestion at the high school and in some of the graded schools.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT

Although we were told in the heat of the presidential campaign that Republican success at the polls would mean an entire reversal of foreign policy the indications are that there is no radical change. This is quite as unavoidable as it is desirable. It has been said many times that a nation's politics should end at the water's edge, for the obvious reason that continuity in foreign policy in its main aspect is essential to good understanding between nations. Consequently we find Mr. Hughes, who promises to be one of our most notable secretaries of state, following much of the work of his predecessor along lines already laid down. It is stated, for instance, that the government will support the position taken by the Wilson administration in the dispute over the Japanese mandate for the Island of Yap. The ultimatum to Costa Rica and Panama was the next logical step in the handling of the situation by former Secretary Colby. It is also announced that the administration is in "hearty sympathy" with the allies in their demand upon Germany for just reparation.

The Harding policy with reference to Mexico is as yet undefined, but we may take it for granted that there will be a period of watchful waiting in that quarter. At an early date Mr. Hughes will have to decide whether to make peace with Germany independently or by means of the treaty of Versailles which our allies in the World War have long since ratified. The consequences of this decision will be far-reaching and may or may not constitute a reversal of the Wilson policy. Next there is the question of disarmament, provision for an international conference on the subject having been made by the late administration, and undoubtedly this will have the support and sympathy of President Harding.

Finally there is the question of the League of Nations, which is the most important of foreign problems likely to confront the administration during the presidential term. Whatever the outcome may be the nation has confidence in the wisdom and judgment of Mr. Hughes as well as the integrity of President Harding that this great responsibility will be met with the same high purpose that actuated President Wilson in his effort to associate the world together for the enforcement of peace. To sum it up it looks as though Secretary Hughes would move cautiously before making radical changes in foreign policies, and that his diplomacy will be altogether straightforward, dignified and resourceful.

A WHOLESOME INFLUENCE

The Wisconsin League of Women Voters has adopted a legislative program which challenges the attention of the state at large. Naturally we find the women concerned with the educational progress of Wisconsin and with the schools as a civic asset. Among other things the league urges the necessity of making English the basic language of all schools; the passage of a bill providing for the teaching of citizenship in all schools of the state beginning with the sixth grade; passage of a law providing that on petition of the parents of twenty-five children of kindergarten age in any school district a kindergarten must be provided and maintained as long as there is an average attendance of fifteen; a bill raising the age of a child securing a work permit to fifteen years and completion of the eighth grade in school or its equivalent, or nine years attendance in school. The women demand increased salaries for qualified teachers in all the public schools and stand for educational progress.

In the field of public morals we find the women active, demanding legislation that will compel all cities of 10,000 population or more to employ one or more policeman, the qualifications of such women to be passed upon by the juvenile judge, president of the school board and a committee of three representative women. The league goes on record "protesting against the roadhouses, and pledging ourselves to use our influence to educate the community to protest against such institutions and to vote only for candidates who will enforce such laws." The league proposes to "foster legislation regarding censorship of all moving pictures by a qualified board." It indorses the Volstead enforcement act and is for legislation for the reforestation of waste lands in Wisconsin.

Here is a program that will give the men something to think about. Contrasted with the humbuggery voiced by most politicians as a stepping stone into office it is a refreshing statement of public policy and indicates that the women of Wisconsin are going to prove a wholesome influence in the affairs of the state.

DANCING, THEN AND NOW

Those who abhor modern dances like to point to old times when dancing in its purity was the poetry of motion. There were the stately minuet and the quadrille in its many varieties, wherein belles and beaux bowed with exceeding grace and held each other only by the hand. They sigh for those times and those dances; and every day or so one reads a new denunciation of syncope dancing. And many there are who sincerely believe there were never times like these, so lost to modernity.

And yet—well, in the year 1730 a citizen of London, having visited the dancing school of a Mr. Rigadoon with whom his daughter was taking dancing lessons, felt called upon to write an indignant letter to the London Spectator concerning what he saw there. "I was amazed," he wrote, "to see my girl handed by, and handing young fellows with so much familiarity; and I could not have thought it was in the child's * * * At last an impudent young dog bid the fiddlers play a dance called 'Moll Patey,' and after having made two or three capers, ran to his partner, locked his arms in hers, and whisked her round above the ground in such a manner that I, who sat upon one of the lowest benches, saw further above her shoes than I can think fit to acquaint you with. I could no longer endure these enormities; wherefore, just as my girl was going to be made a whirlingig, I ran in, seized on the child, and carried her home."

This happened nearly 200 years ago. And 200 years hence some writer bent on showing that, after all, his generation is not the worst ever, will point out that way back in 1921 folks were complaining about dances known as the camel-walk and the toddle and deploring the decadence of the times. Our times, if not the best, are not the worst. External change; human nature is unchanging.

SUBMISSION

By Alfred Arnold

I vowed that I would call to you,
And tell my secret all to you,
Before I lost the wonder in the morning and my heart.

For Oh, the day was beautiful
And Oh, my eyes were beautiful
To all your proud young loveliness and all your artless art!

But as you crossed the garden there
And flowers plead for pardon there
In daring to show form and hue when yours were passing by,
And all the streets were wondering
At their too awkward blundering
To venturing a comparison, I ended on a sigh.

Yes, as the blossoms bent to you,
I could not think I meant to you
More than a green-tree shadow, or bright water from cool wells:

The lily honors paid to you;
The rose obedience made to you;
And all your praise chimed soft from throats of Canterbury bells.

When, suddenly, you turned to me:
And while your dusk eyes gleamed to me,
Your voice came low and faltering, and tender
"Is it you?"

And then I saw you bow to love
And lower your white brow to love
While all the fair flowers did the same, and then
I knew; I knew!

TWO GREAT EARTHQUAKE BELTS

There are two earthquake belts which encircle the world. One of them runs through the Mediterranean region and Asia Minor to the Himalayas and beyond, crossing the Pacific to Central America and the Caribbean.

The other encircles the Pacific Ocean, running northward along the Andes in South America, following the west coast of North America, continuing on by way of the Aleutian chain to Kamchatka, and passing through the Japanese Islands to the Philippines and New Zealand.

The two belts cross each other in the Andes and in the western Pacific. Within them occur 94 per cent of all the earthquakes recorded on the terrestrial globe.

HIBED TO SING FOR A KING

The most curious contract that ever an operative star made was probably that of Farnell, who about the year 1734, was deriving an income of something like $25,000 per annum. This singer afterwards visited Spain, where the King, Philip V, was suffering from mental depression, from which nothing aroused him until the advent of Farnell. The Queen was so delighted to see her royal spouse once more interested in anything, and she engaged Farnell at a salary of $10,000 to remain in Madrid. This he did, singing the same four songs to the King every night for ten years.

CLUB FOOT

Any one with even a casual knowledge of embryology or the ante-natal development of the body cannot but marvel that such slight faults of development, or rather interruptions of growth, as club foot, hare lip, and spina bifida, come so rarely. And yet not wholly ignorant of embryology can find only amusement in the superstitious explanations for such accidental occurrences made by our irresponsible commentators, the fishwife. Next to the fine-spun fancies with which unenlightened mortals attempt to account for their respiratory diseases, there is nothing in the realm of etiology so absurd to a half-way unintelligent mind as the superstition of marking.

The curative treatment for club foot should begin when the child is two weeks old. If the very best results are desired.

Correction of the deformity is very simple in some cases, and very difficult in others, depending upon the amount of deformity or the lack of development. As a rule, even though practically perfect functional development is brought about by proper medical treatment, the size of the foot remains always a little less than normal.

The best kind of treatment has been found to be manual correction or overcorrection of the deformity and the application of suitable plaster of Paris bandages to hold the foot in the corrected position for a time. This seance is repeated at regular intervals, a little being gained each time, as the child grows. In the first year, adhesive plaster is also used with advantage in improving the position of the foot. Physicians most experienced in treating such conditions (orthopedic surgeons) persist until the foot is overcorrected to the degree of contact with the lower part of the leg, in which position it is retained for about six weeks before the retentive dressings are discontinued. After that the mother may carry on the restorative treatment by daily manipulations of the foot under the physician's direction. When the child begins to walk the outer border of the shoe is raised one-fourth inch. In very few cases it is necessary to resort to an anesthetic or incision; but in these cases it would be disastrous to avoid the necessary operation.

As a general rule, club foot is treated more successfully without braces or splints of any kind. It is a mistake to imagine that a brace will correct a deformity. All a brace can do is retain the member in a certain position—which may or may not be helpful—it is wholly up to the physician in charge. Parents who put braces or supports of any kind whatsoever on children with a defect or deformity, without the advice and constant supervision of a physician, make a dreadful mistake which is pretty sure to bring them lifelong regret.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Encls

Is it injurious to use enough ether in obstetrics to make the patient almost unconscious of the pain? Is it in any way injurious to the child? If so, in what way might it cause trouble? (G. C.)

ANSWER—Intelligently employed by the trained physician, ether or chloroform or other controllable analgesic or pain-reliever is safe and indeed increases the safety of mother and child in many cases.

Shimmy Treatment

Kindly give me your advice on these electric vibrators and violet ray instruments that are exploited so much lately. (A. W.)

ANSWER—The vibrator is about as good a remedy for whatever you imagine ails you as is the shimmy. The violet light has as much influence as a candle, and rather less than sunlight. Toys for the amusement of gullible folk. Ultra-violet ray treatment is a very different matter, but, of course, is not a thing laymen would venture to triffl with.

Electric Light

Is it harmful to work under electric light all day? The light has a shade and does not shine in my eyes. (E. P.)

ANSWER—Not if the source of light is outside the range of your vision as you sit or stand at work and the light is neither too dim nor too intense.

VARIETY IN DIAMONDS

Each of the five mines owned and worked by the Great De Beers Company in the Kimberly district produces diamonds with well marked characteristics. The Kimberly mine yields a good percentage of white and many yellow stones. Dutoitspan Mine is famed for its large yellow diamonds. At Bullfontein small white and spotted stones are common. From the Westleton Mine come many beautiful deep orange-colored diamonds while the DeBeers Mine shows a good percentage of tinted yellow and brown stones. The Premier Mine (Transvaal) yields a large number of "off-colored" stones. The Cullinan diamond, of exceptional purity, from the Jagersfontein Mine in the Orange Free State the famous bluish-white stones are derived. The diamonds found in German Southwest Africa are small and bluish in color.

Typhus!

By Frederic J. Haskin

New York.—The Typhus Germ cannot be Americanized. It is one European product that must be kept out of the well-worn melting-pot; one danger which cannot be accepted and absorbed even by such an undercrust nation as ours.

Haskin

agreed as to this; only there are various disagreements as to how it is to be done, and the nation as a whole seems to be painfully slow in making up its mind.

Already 40 cases of typhus have occurred in New York City and its harbor, with several deaths as a result. Nearly every ship arriving from a foreign port carries infected immigrants, while thousands of others, suspected of the same condition, will continue to sail for this country as fast as there is storage space to accommodate them.

Yet the New York City Health Department has been severely criticized in some quarters for adopting prompt and rigorous measures to bar typhus vermin, and only in the past few days have the Federal health authorities been given permission to act in the matter.

"The importance of the typhus danger cannot be overestimated," Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner of New York City, told the reporter in a brief interview the other afternoon. "Some people are inclined to think that we have raised a rather needless scare, but that is because they are unacquainted with typhus. They do not know that it is one of the deadliest scourges to which mankind is victim. They do not know that more men died of typhus in Russia during the war than were killed in battle. They do not realize that in this city, might spread a plague that would cause a million deaths in the space of a few weeks."

Dr. Copeland was the first person to recognize the fact that a typhus emergency existed. As soon as the first cases were discovered, he notified the immigration authorities and stationed fumigating squads at the Battery to inspect immigrants arriving in the city from Ellis Island. Many were found to be vermin-infested and had to be put through the delousing process. Others carried bundles and suitcases containing infected clothing.

Chaos at Port

This caused a great deal of consternation at both Ellis Island and Hoffman's Island, the quarantine station, where the immigrants had been passed without question. The health authorities at both of these places immediately started making special inspections for typhus infection, which naturally required much more time than the ordinary health inspections. They were delayed in their work by the lack of proper facilities. Ships, with steerage passengers who had to be examined, began to pile up in the harbor, and thus arose the present congested condition.

The Federal authorities have recently taken over the state quarantine station at Hoffman's Island, but inasmuch as the facilities have not been increased, conditions are not noticeably improved. Reporters are not permitted to add to the general chaos at Hoffman's Island, but from the stories of returned travelers, one learns that the immigrants have a sad time there.

"It was early morning and frightfully cold when they came for the immigrants on our ship in a small tugboat," narrated an American woman who arrived on a French ship the other day. "They began to transfer the infected or suspected immigrants at once, but not without a fight, because the French officials objected, saying that the immigrants were perfectly clean. The poor people, having come from Italy and the south of France, were not prepared for a cold climate. Their clothing was distressingly scanty and they trembled with cold. Those who did not get typhus probably got pneumonia later. Mothers were dragged away from their children and all bundled into the tug. Many of them could not speak English and did not understand what it was all about. They kept them over there at Hoffman's Island all day, waiting for examinations, and during all that time they did not have a thing to eat. Of course, I suppose the government cannot help it, but I do think something ought to be done."

This woman's ship was fortunate, however, to be held up only 24 hours. Others have had to lie in the harbor for two or three days while the quarantine office caught up with its work. On one of these detained ships, the immigrants recently staged a rebellion, threatening in the choicest words of several different languages to do some damage if they were not permitted to leave the boat. Then, as they were not released, they carried out their threat. They broke some furniture and incidentally the water pipes. Nevertheless, they had to remain there the rest of the day, and the ship's stewards got even by charging them 50 cents per cup for drinking water.

Hard on Ship Companies

The immigrants, moreover, are not the only ones who are not enjoying the present situation. The steamship companies find it equally difficult. Every day they are held up in the harbor means a large money loss, for not only must they lose valuable time but they must continue feeding their passengers. One large steamship company has placed one of its vessels at the disposal of the quarantine officials as a detention ship for immigrants, who are transferred to it for examination while the ship that brought them continues on its way. Under the emergency ruling, the craft from a foreign port can approach within 300 yards of a New York pier without a permit, granted only after the most rigid inspection.

One hears vague rumors that the steamship companies are establishing their own delousing plants on the European side, but no definite information seems to be available on this point. Many people feel that it is up to the foreign governments to take the necessary precautions against the spread of typhus, and to prevent any but clean emigrants from embarking for this country. The foreign governments, however, do not seem to agree with this view. The Italian Government, in fact, has even resented the charge that any infected immigrants could possibly come from Italian shores, although the fact remains that they have.

To avoid the congestion in New York harbor, many steamship lines are now diverting their vessels to other ports, notably Boston and Philadelphia. From these points the immigrants come to New York by rail, thus making it necessary for the city health department to keep inspection squads also at the railway stations. Fortunately, here the New York Travelers' Aid Society has come to the rescue and is taking care of family groups while their various members are removed for examination and fumigation.

"Sometimes while a husband is sent away to be freed from vermin," one of the Travelers' Aids told the reporter, "the wife thinks he is being dragged off to Siberia. Then we have to rush our interpreter to the scene to explain the matter to her. So many of the people are war refugees, who have already suffered so much that their anxieties are easily aroused."

If the man is detained for any great length of time, the Aids see that the children get food and that the family obtains proper lodgings. Sometimes as many as 25 such families must be taken care of out of a group of a hundred or more who come through on one train.

While precautions against the typhus coodle are ever becoming more systematized, the congestion remains unrelieved at the port of New York. The health authorities are putting up a valiant fight against tremendous handicaps. They need more men, and more facilities. Congress, they say, could solve the whole typhus emergency at once by ordering a cessation of immigration until the disease subsided in Europe, but Congress has its own reasons for desiring immigration to continue. The least, then, that it can do is to authorize an increase in the size of the force and working materials at Hoffman's and Ellis Island. At the same time, to prevent the spread of the plague.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor undertake extensive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What other names are Navy Boats known by? V. C. S.

A. Other common names for this small bean are: Pea, White, Navy, White Field, Marrow Beans, Boston Navy, Small Navy, Prolific.

Q. Is there a precious or semi-precious stone known as Sard? A. A.

A. The sard is a variety of chalcedony that differs from carnelian by its deep red color. It was highly prized by the ancients who used it as a gem. It was credited with numerous virtues by the early writers—by some it was claimed to confer on its wearer "a cheerful heart and courage," and protected him from witchcraft.

Q. What is the cost of maintaining our Army in Germany? A. M. P.

A. The total cost of the American Forces in Germany, from the beginning of the occupation to June 30, 1920, amounted to $256,065,084.35. This sum includes maintenance (officers, men, animals) charges peculiar to the Army (civilian labor, rentals, and bulletins, claims), and a net debit (munitions, salvage value, etc.) under the terms of the Armistice. Germany is obliged to reimburse the United States for the cost of the American Forces in Germany. To June 30, 1920, Germany had paid on this account $24,724,658.75, including credits for sales, leaving a net balance due the United States of $232,240,425.57.

Q. Where is the River of Golden Sands? J. H.

A. This is a name given to the river Pactolus in Lydia, an ancient country in Asia Minor. According to mythology this is the river in which Midas washed away his power of transmuting into gold anything that he touched, the sands of the river afterward turning to gold.

Q. Is there any substance besides camphor which will drive moths away? F. H.

A. A perfume bag to keep moths away is made as follows: One-half ounce each of cloves, nutmeg, cardamom, cinnamon, and three ounces of orris root. Have these in a fine powder and place in small bags. These bags placed amid the clothing impart a pleasant odor, and will keep moths out.

CANCEL HEARING ON STREET CAR SERVICE

Because the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. has "made changes in its service to Appleton junction which are satisfactory" the hearing in the complaint of C. R. Seaborn, Walnut-st., and 26 others, scheduled by the Wisconsin railroad commission for next week, has been canceled, according to word received from the commission. Mr. Seaborn complained that the service to Appleton junction was inadequate.

A. K. Ellis, superintendent of the traction company, said an extra car had been held in reserve at the corner of College-ave. and Oneida-st. since the first of the year to take care of passengers who could not be accommodated by the late afternoon cars to the junction. It is said this extra car is eliminating the congestion which was complained of.

Girls! Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the duldest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce nor stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful Cream will work a marvelous transformation. Get a small quantity today at any good drug or toilet goods counter. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. In addition the manufacturers authorize every druggist to return the purchase money unless the first application shows noticeable improvement, so be sure to try it at our expense. Schintz Brothers Co., Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy, The Pettibone-Peabody Co., can supply you.

News of Interest From County and State

FITZPATRICK AND CARY CLASH AGAIN

Sharp Verbal Tilts Feature Hearing on Abolishment of Education Board.

Special to Post-Crescent: Madison.—The long fight of State Superintendent C. P. Cary against the state board of education, came to a climax Wednesday afternoon when the assembly committee on education held a public hearing on the Olson bill to abolish the state board.

Assemblyman William Olson, who introduced the bill, declared he did so in a spirit of economy, that the board receives an appropriation of $15,000 annually, and has spent $75,000 of that amount, which he declared should have been saved the state if the board had never been created.

Asked by Assemblyman John T. Dahl if the board had saved anything for the state in the six years of its existence he said he did not know.

C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction for the last 18 years, then took up the fight for the passage of the bill. He declared the state board of education was created in 1915 as the result of one of Gov. E. L. Phillips' campaign pledges, for three purposes: 1. To curb the expenditures of the higher educational institutions, especially the university. 2. To add the common schools financially. 3. To create a commissioner of education.

He charged that instead of curbing the expenditures of the university, it had been able to secure practically anything it wanted or asked for; that the common schools had received little or no benefit from the board and that the legislature refused to create a commissioner of education and a secretary of the board was substituted.

Supt. Cary was questioned at some length by Assemblyman Dahl. He was asked about cooperation between his department and the state board and said there had been none, that he refused to cooperate with anyone trying to cut his throat.

President Pearce, of the Milwaukee Normal, declared the normals had gotten along better before the state board was created, that they had reached the height of their prosperity in 1915 and that the state board was created for purposes, for duties which had already been assigned to other boards or departments which were in much better position to act than the state board.

E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, led the fight against the bill, answering every contention of the proponents. The hearing, which attracted the largest crowd of the session, was continued until late in the evening.

NEW LONDON CONDENSARY HAS RESUMED OPERATIONS

Special to Post-Crescent: New London.—New London employees of the Borden Condensary, as well as Supt. F. H. Ding, feel optimistic about the future of the condensary here when condensary was resumed this week. The first day's receipts were 75,000 pounds. The price is $2.10 per hundred pounds. About $50,000 a month will be paid for milk. At present there is about 30 carloads of milk still in storage, but this will be shipped out before the milk now on hand is condensed and canned ready for market.

A new device has been added for cleaning the tops of tin cans and making their filling more hygienic and safe. The company has been employing about 150 people during the dull season and is adding to that number, as more milk is brought and more labor is necessary.

Have Pains?

Acute and pains seem to be the lot of the ordinary mortal. However, these should be taken simply as nature's warning signals that some part of the human machine is out of order. It is a mistake to resign one's self to physical torture when the cause can be removed.

FAMILY MAROONED ON ICE FOR ENTIRE NIGHT

Marquette.—Mrs. J. McTane and grandson were lost on Lake Nockewau during a storm and were obliged to remain out all night on the ice.

They had crossed early in the evening to call on friends and started upon their return at midnight. It was very dark and a fine snow was falling. They traveled for a long time and then found themselves back at the point they started from. They made another start, keeping the lights of the Lake Nockewau in view. When near the other shore the lights were too dim for guidance.

Uric Acid Poisoning

(By Dr. N. C. Cook)

A poison as dangerous as strychnin is manufactured within our own bodies, called uric acid. When it accumulates in the body and the kidneys fail to carry it off, we suffer from dull headache, sleeplessness, muscular pains, lumbago or it may cause rheumatism or gout. The uric acid can be seen in the cloudy sediment in the water—what is called the "brick-dust," noted on the sides of the vessel containing it after a few hours' standing. The water is scant, high-colored, strongly acid, and this should be a danger sign, and if not taken in time by cutting out the meat, tea and alcohol, may end in rheumatism or gout.

Take "An-uric," first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. Anuric (anturic acid) Tablets can be obtained at almost any drug store.

STATE TAX BILLS SLATED FOR DEFEAT

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison.—As was expected the assembly committee on taxation reported for indefinite postponement Wednesday, 10 o'clock, bills Nos. 23 A, 31 A, 162 A, and 223 A, and for non-concurrence in Senate bill No. 32 S.

No. 23 A, is the Goodman bill, increasing the exemptions under the state income tax for an individual from $800 to $1,600 for husband and wife from $1,200 to $2,400, and for each child under 18 years and each dependent from $200 to $300.

No. 33 A, is the C. E. Hanson bill repealing the personal property exemption in the income tax law.

No. 162 A, is damper bill exempting from taxation for a period of five years improvements made on wild lands to the value of $2,000.

No. 223 A, is the Jones bill providing that no hospital or sanitarium shall be exempt from taxation unless it is open to the patients of any licensed physician and does not discriminate between the patients of any regularly licensed physician. This is the so-called osteopaths bill.

No. 32 S, is the Czerwinski bill increasing the exemption for each child under 18 and each dependent under the income tax law from $200 to $400.

The report of the committee means that the first income tax fight, in fact the first tax fight of the session will be made on the floor of the assembly instead of in the senate where the Severn and Constant surtax bills will be argued. It is expected the report of the committee will be placed on the calendar for next Tuesday or Wednesday, although it is possible it may be taken up tomorrow.

OUTSIDERS BRING CONTAGION HERE

Health Department Making
Strenuous Efforts to Stamp Out Diseases.

Smallpox has again made its appearance in Appleton. A young lady from Greenleaf, who was clerking in a store, became ill with the disease at her rooming place on Morrison-st. Immediately after the case was reported to the health department, Dr. H. E. Ellsworth took steps to have her removed to her home after first getting in touch with the health officer of her home town. Another case has been reported on Second-ave. and still another on Freedom-rd. just outside of the city limits.

Scarlet fever which has been prevalent throughout the state for the last two months continues to spread gradually in Appleton in spite of the efforts of the health department to keep it down. Most of the cases are brought in from outside the city and it is this fact that is causing the health officer the greatest concern. During the winter the disease has been kept down to four or five families, but now there is nearly double that number quarantined.

Dr. H. E. Ellsworth reports 14 deaths during the month of February, 13 of which occurred in Appleton. Seventy-two births were reported by physicians, 47 of which were recorded during February. The remainder covered ten months of the year previous and were not reported at the time owing to laxity on the part of certain physicians.

OHIO BANKER MAY GET HIGH TREASURY PLACE

An announcement of interest to Appleton bankers is the possible appointment of John Hamilton, Ohio, by President Harding to the position of controller of currency. His name has been mentioned prominently for this office and many of his friends are rallying to his support.

Mr. Hamilton is a former president of the American Bankers association. He is a personal acquaintance of John J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank, who served with him for three years on the executive board of the association.

RED CROSS WILL GET SOLDIER HEADSTONES

Further details for securing headstones for unmarked graves of soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the World war have been received in the Red Cross office, together with a supply of application blanks.

The government will erect free headstones in national cemeteries, and will provide them for graves in private cemeteries, except that part of the transportation charges must be borne by the family. Free headstones are not to be requested for any grave at which a private stone, monument or other permanent marker is already erected.

Cupid is Lagging
Only 38 marriage licenses have so far been issued by the county clerk this year. The falling off amounts to more than 50 per cent and the number of licenses issued is the smallest it has been at any time since the law became effective 20 years ago.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Bros. company; Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that the will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

Does Your Back Ache?

Have you swollen hands, ankles, feet due to a tropical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys? Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous uric acid, which settles in the tissues of the feet, ankles, wrists or back as uric acid salts.

It is just as necessary to keep the kidneys acting properly as to keep the bowels active to rid the body of poisons.

The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and an "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) tablet.

This "Anuric" is a new discovery made by Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. druggists keep it, or if you prefer send for trial package to Dr. Pierce and write for free medical advice.

The STAGE

Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States during the year 1912 to 1920 inclusive, is to lecture here on the evening of Friday, March 11, at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

During the past year Mr. Marshall has enjoyed experiences which seldom come, even to vice-presidents. Through circumstances it was his duty to receive and entertain officially the big men and high diplomats of many governments who visited the United States. Among these might be mentioned the King and Queen of Belgium, the Prince of Wales, Admiral Jelliffe and other notable people prominent in the making of the world history of today.

Thomas R. Marshall is a man of the people. He has been a plain, common, every-day man through the years of his official position—the same modest, retiring "Tom Marshall" of private life. He is a man of force and earnest conviction, a fearless speaker who is gifted with unusual oratorical ability. He has a firm grasp on all the national and international problems of the day, and he discusses them with sincerity and frankness. He is not just an official—he is a man who comes from one of the high offices of the nation with a wonderful knowledge of men and affairs, and he is able to discuss his observations in a forceful and most fascinating manner.

SHERIFF SEES KRAUSE AND KABAT AT WAUPUN
While at the state penitentiary at Waupun Monday, Sheriff P. G. Schwartz saw both Paul Krause and Wenzel Kabat, who were sentenced from Outagamie county for life. Krause for killing his wife and Kabat for killing McCarty of the town of Kaukauna. The sheriff was personally acquainted with Krause and was a member of the jury that was called in to try the case. He was excused, however. He says that the prisoner has grown old and is not as heavy as he was. Kabat has changed very little.

Make Tax Returns
City, town and village treasurers are making their returns of state taxes to Louis A. Peterson, county treasurer, only a few days being left to make such payments. The city of New London has just paid its tax and so has the village of Bear Creek. Among the towns that reported Tuesday were Bovina and Deer Creek.

Walking Under Difficulties

"Believe me, I suffered from stomach and bowel trouble right. This weakened me so that I could scarcely walk. I could do no work. This was my condition when I started taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy on the advice of a friend. Now I am working every day and feel better than I ever did in my life. It is the only medicine that ever touched me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. —All Druggists. adv.

KIDNEY SUFFERERS Benefited Beyond Belief

Cincinnati, O., July 25, 1920. After having been relieved of kidney trouble of several years standing by Dr. Carey's Marshroot prescription No. 777 am exceedingly grateful and loud in its praise—have recommended to it several fellow-workers who were also benefited beyond their belief by its use. It is my candid opinion that there is no better remedy than Dr. Carey's Marshroot.

August 3rd I received your letter asking permission to reproduce my letter to you (as above). If it will in any way to help people realize the true merits of Dr. Carey's Marshroot prescription you are at liberty to do so. I know that it cured me: I suffered great pain for several years and am certainly grateful and feel confident that if people who have kidney trouble will use it long enough to give it a fair test there will be more grateful ones added to the list.—John E. Douglas, 103 West Court Street, Cincinnati, O.

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey, the well known kidney specialist of Elmira, N. Y., who died, recently declared that his great prescription, No. 777 Marshroot, had helped thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Remember the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription, No. 777. No other medicine can take its place.—Schlitz Bros. Co. adv.

patients, and giving whatever assistance he can. He visits almost all sanatoria in Wisconsin once a month.

Dr. Peyte was formerly associate medical director of the state sanatorium at Statesan, Waukesha county, and has become expert in his work as state consultant. He spends a day or more consulting and advising with the attending physician, superintendent, patients, board of trustees and the county board. He also holds clinics in each county, giving people opportunity for a free chest examination and giving physicians a chance to bring their patients for consultation.

Standardization of methods and closer cooperation between sanatoria are to be accomplished through the consultant's work. He assists in solution of common problems, showing how one or another of the institutions has met the need. He also tries to educate the patient and those attending him regarding the true nature of tuberculosis, its curability and preventability. He usually conducts a lecture and discussion showing the patient that the sanatorium is a school of health.

One of Dr. Peyte's important duties is to promote contentment of patients so they will remain in the sanatorium long enough to arrest the progress of the disease. He is also helpful to the county trustees.

C. OF C. IS STUDYING CITY'S MILK PROBLEM

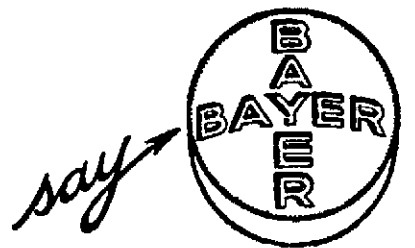

Thorough study of the movement for pure milk for Appleton citizens is being made by the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce. Two meetings have been held this week for discussion of the matter, but the committee has found it necessary to gather more data. Several meetings already have been devoted to this subject, which is found to be more important and comprehensive than was first believed.

Some dealers pasteurize their milk to protect patrons against the danger of tuberculosis and others do not. There has been agitation by a number of citizens for an ordinance compelling all milk to be tuberculin tested. The effect of such a measure and its possible benefits over the present situation are being investigated.

COLLEGIANS TELL KIMBERLY MAT MEN WHERE TO HEAD IN

Lawrence Ready to Meet Milli Team, But School Rules Must Be Followed.

"Shut up or put up" is the answer of the Lawrence wrestlers to the Kimmerly mat team. The college men feel that the mat team is a far cry from the main event of the night, and they are willing to meet them on the mat, but they are willing to take an even bet on the near future to hook another scalp to their string of victories.

To prove that they mean business Lawrence has submitted a contract to the athletic authorities of Kimmerly which is practically identical with the contract which brought Indiana University to Appleton. But to date the Kimmerly men have refused to sign the contract.

College men claim the main difficulty in rematching the teams this year has been the insistence of the mill team to form new rules under which the meet shall be run. Lawrence men object to this proposition as they are wrestling as a college team and as such, wrestle under a code of regulations which are called the "Rules of the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives" and are formed and changed when necessary by the officials of the western conference. These rules specify seven different weights in five of which Lawrence is represented this year. To be eligible to wrestle in these weights, the men must weigh in at or under the specified weight. The rules provide for seven minute bouts to a fall or decision, the man winning the best two out of three to be declared the winner. Eight points are awarded to the team winning a match by one or two falls and six for a match won by one or two decisions. Decisions are awarded to the man doing the more aggressive work and showing the greater knowledge of wrestling during the bout.

Indiana met Lawrence in five weights this year and so will Wisconsin providing the latter accepts Lawrence's latest challenge for the state championship. Lawrence held Indiana to the closest score that that team has had in the past two years and the blue and white team is confident of defeating Wisconsin. Lawrence therefore is determined that all matches with local teams shall be run under the same rules as with the universities.

The official score of the first meet between Lawrence and Kimmerly-Clark was 31-23 in the collegians' favor. Lawrence won six falls and lost three decisions and one fall while the other bout was declared a draw. Two of the bouts won by Lawrence were not included in the final score, it was said.

MITCHELL WHIPPED BY KANSAS IN GREAT FIGHT

Milwaukee-Rocky Kansas, Buffalo tornado, demonstrated conclusively here Wednesday night that his round victory over Richie Mitchell was not a fluke. He decisively defeated the local pride in a thrilling 10-round bout in the auditorium before an immense crowd.

Richie went the full route, fought a lion-hearted battle against a superior foe, but was whipped. Kansas dropped him for the nine count in the fifth round and time and again sent him reeling into the ropes with sturdy left hooks to the jaw.

Mitchell came back strong after the tumble in the fifth and tore into Kansas, sending him to the ropes with a wicked left but the invader was not to be denied and had Richie hanging on the ropes at the bell.

Mitchell won only one round, the ninth. He held his own in three spasms and lost the other six.

Kansas showed Milwaukee fans he is a shifty fighter, the kind that will make Benny Leonard step out when they clash.

LITTLE CHUTE MAT MEN WHIP KIMBERLY

Proficiency of Little Chute's Heavyweights Brings Home the Bacon.

Little Chute wrestlers showed their mettle Wednesday night when they defeated the powerful Kimmerly-Clark mat team, 32 to 22, in Kimmerly Dining hall. The Little Chute heavyweights were the mainstays for the victors, winning all their bouts, while the lightweight events went to the millmen. The Chuteers have had only a few weeks of work but performed in stellar fashion.

Following are the results:
115-pound class—Arnold Pocan, Kimmerly, defeated Clarence Versteeg, Little Chute, by a fall and decision.

120-pound class—Merkel, Kimmerly, won from Lester Versteeg, Little Chute, by two decisions.

135-pound class—Albers, Kimmerly, defeated Verhoeven, Little Chute, by two decisions; Helf, Little Chute, won from Coppens, Kimmerly, by two decisions.

145-pound class—Wildenberg, Little Chute, defeated Pocan of Kimmerly in two straight falls with the headlock. This was the feature bout of the evening. Keyser, Little Chute, won from Crowe, Kimmerly, by a fall and a decision.

150-pound class—Gerrits, Little Chute, won from Laarschot, Kimmerly, by a fall and decision.

165-pound class—Gunschevik, Little Chute, defeated Montae, Kimmerly, by decision and forfeit.

Carl Olson of Lawrence college, refereed the bouts.

K-C. TEAM WINS MILL LEAGUE BASKET TITLE

Kimmerly-Clark basketball team won the Interfactory league championship by defeating the Interlakes in the final game on the Y. M. C. A. floor, 21 to 8, finishing the season with a perfect record. The Interlakes were close contenders and wind up in second place.

The Interfactory league council will meet Monday night to begin discussion of a baseball league to be operated during the summer. Arrangements probably will be discussed for a banquet in the near future when bowling and basketball medals will be awarded.

PRELIM WRESTLERS HAVE LOTS OF PEP

Interesting Matches Among the Lighter Weights Are Promised for Appleton.

Challenges flew right and left last Tuesday night at the Hill-Martinson wrestling bout and some very interesting preliminaries are promised for the coming matches at the armory this year. Kid McHugh of Appleton Junction challenged Atkinson to a match and was accepted, the match to be held in the near future. McHugh outweighs Atkinson by about 15 pounds.

Ed Ahrens, farmer boy of Appleton, who claims the local middleweight crown is after opponents as all of the local men have been steering clear of him. Ahrens made a public challenge to Art Wundrow, coach of the Kimmerly Mill team, but to date the challenge has not been accepted.

Wundrow made his reputation last year by defeating his opponent when Lawrence wrestled the University of Wisconsin team but so far this year he has rested upon his laurels. Ahrens is confident of defeating Wundrow who claims to have retired from the game actively and who says that he will devote his time now to coaching rather than to the active work on the mat. This bout should prove to be very interesting providing Wundrow can be induced to meet Ahrens. The Kimmerly man will have a slight advantage in weight in this match.

HIGH BASKETEERS OFF FOR TOURNEY

Appleton's Opponents Will Be Selected at Meeting of Coaches.

Eight Appleton high school basketball players left shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning for Oshkosh where they are to take part in the ninth annual northeastern Wisconsin sectional tournament under the auspices of Oshkosh normal school. Selection of opponents and time for playing will be made at a meeting of coaches at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The first game will be played at 2:30 in the afternoon and the second series will begin at 7:30 in the evening.

Very few students will accompany the team on Thursday because it was not known when the team will play. If the drawing puts Appleton on the schedule for the evening game it is probable a number of students will go.

Coach Vincent was accompanied by Dunn, Courtney, Jacobson, Bries, Bloomer, Roach, Stodman and Laughlin on his journey to the battleground. The boys are in excellent condition and should continue in the running. The tournament winner is to be entered in the state championship meet in Madison in the near future.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS ITSELF OUT

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

The Milking Machine Sensation of 1921

Here is a hand-operated Milker which any farmer, no matter how large his herd, can use to advantage. A good operator can milk as many as twenty-four cows an hour with this machine, or with a helper around can milk as many as thirty-two an hour. Yes, a real Time and Labor-Saver.

This machine is the ideal milker for the farmer who does not want to start machine milking with a power driven outfit. The motor drive can be installed at any time later, making the machine into an Electric Milker.

Not a cent of installation expense on either model — no pipes, tanks, pulsators or extra pails. Milk flow visible at all times, and the last word in sanitation.

The Electric Milker is, of course, the most convenient to handle, as the motor does the pumping and one man can milk 28 to 32 cows per hour with this machine.

NO LIGHT ON BRIDGE PROBLEMS OF CITY

When a vast new territory in the fourth ward for development in the future, the taxable value of considerable fourth ward property provide a shorter route to Kenesh and Menasha and in building up the west section of Appleton.

The third project—that of building a viaduct from Allen st. over the Fox river to a point near the top of the Lake st. bridge—would cost not less than $50,000, the engineer said. It would be necessary to maintain the Lake st. bridge because there are no other means of getting to the manufacturing plants which are on the river level. These institutions would not be benefited by a viaduct except as it reduced traffic on the lower level and reduced the possibility of accident because of congestion.

Divert Heavy Traffic

Granting that it would always be necessary to maintain a bridge on Lake st. even if a viaduct is constructed, several of the men believed the best solution of the entire problem was to divert as much traffic as possible from that overworked street and abandon the viaduct project. There was considerable difference of opinion as to whether this purpose would be better served at Law or Cherry st.

Friends of Lake st. bridge argued that nearly all of the heavy truck traffic would be diverted to that street because it would eliminate the steep grade and sharp turns on Pearl st. and would avoid the congestion in the center of the city. They were quite generally agreed that tourist traffic would follow the Lake st. route. They also contended a bridge at Law st. would provide a more direct and less congested route to the valley manufacturing district for the fire department and would also be of great emergency service in case of accident to the Lake st. bridge. Shortening of the walk for First and Sixth ward workmen employed in the valley also was considered.

Several men believed the Lake st. bridge should be constructed at water level and the approach from the north should be by way of Drew st. and then west to Law st. but this contemplated acquisition of a right-of-way back of Lawrence college. The river level bridge would not cost much more than half as much as the proposed structure from the top of Law st. to Vulcan st.

Those who were not entirely favorable to a bridge at that point declared this project would not take traffic from the railroad crossing on Lake st., and would do little toward diverting tourist traffic from the congested portion of the city. They contended a bridge at Cherry st. would serve that purpose more admirably.

Widen Lake st.

Widening of the Lake st. bridge was discussed at length but it was pointed out that even if the bridge is made wider there still remained the narrow entrance between the Fox River Paper Co. mills. It was intimated that perhaps condemnation proceedings might be resorted to, to force the paper company to cut off a portion of one of its buildings but that contemplated a long and costly legal battle. It was suggested that one of the sidewalks be removed and the street car tracks moved nearer to the edge of the road-way in order to avoid the congestion. Elimination of the trusses between the street car bridge and the vehicle bridge and pavement of that portion occupied by the street car tracks also was suggested as a means of widening the bridge.

One of the principal arguments against extensive construction work on Lake st. was that any kind of a bridge there would not relieve the congestion in the center of the city. "The best way to avoid that is to build either at Law st. or Cherry st. or in both places," it was said.

Whatever may be the tangible result of the meeting it provided an excellent medium for constructive discussion of an important problem.

Members of the council complained that taxpayers do not show sufficient interest in these matters and as a consequence they do not know how to act. They asked for cooperation from businessmen and taxpayers generally and welcomed the opportunity to talk with men who are taking an active interest in the questions which they must answer for the community. The problem discussed Wednesday night was too big to permit of snap judgment but the conference provided information and expression of opinion which cannot help but be useful in finally determining the city's action.

PUT GALA DRESS ON COLLEGE-AVE. FOR STYLE WEEK

College-ave. will be in gala array Monday evening for the opening of the merchants' cooperative style show week. Street concerts are to be given by the Ninth Regiment band, bells will ring and whistles will blow. Demonstrations of fire fighting practice are to be given by companies of No. 1 station.

Some of the most attractive merchandising displays ever arranged in Appleton will be shown by about 30 merchants of the retail division of the chamber of commerce. Stores are to be open from 7.30 to 9.30 with the new spring styles prominently displayed for the inspection of the public. No sales are to be made. The merchants are also to cooperate in trimming their windows attractively for the occasion.

Whistles and bells will sound for about five minutes at 7.30 to announce the opening of style week, which continues through Monday of the week following. Street concerts will follow on different parts of the avenue. It is expected that thousands of people will spend the evening downtown. They will have the privilege of passing from store to store to see all the new showings in clothing, hats, shoes and other apparel without feeling any obligation to buy, because the merchants have agreed to make no sales. Concerts are to be provided in some stores by special orchestras, flowers will be given in others, and some plan other features to attract the people.

Thomas L. Long Withdraws as Secretary After Long Period of Service.

Daniel P. Steinberg was elected exalted ruler of Elk lodge at the annual meeting Wednesday evening in Elk hall. Thomas J. Long, who has been an officer for nearly 20 years, is to be succeeded as secretary and is to be succeeded by Carl Tennie. Other officers elected were Homer H. Benton, esteemed leading knight; James Ballet, esteemed leading knight; P. M. Conkey, treasurer; Fred Peterson, trustee for three years.

The lodge made preliminary arrangements to install four more bowling alleys in the building. Extensive remodeling is to be made in the alterations and it is possible that an addition may be built at the side of the present structure to accommodate the alleys. About $10,000 will be spent for the improvements.

Believing that with four bowling alleys added the club can entertain the state Elk bowling tournament, a committee consisting of James H. Ballet, H. L. Davis and Dr. C. J. Schmidt was appointed to attend the state committee meeting in Green Bay March 22 and invite the 1921 tournament to Appleton allowing for the possibility that the alleys might not be completed by that time.

Mr. Long was urged to accept the office of secretary for another term but said he had held office for so many years that he preferred to withdraw and give somebody else a chance. Several members spoke briefly in appreciation of the long and faithful service given the lodge and a later recognition of this is being arranged. Mr. Long has been secretary for 14 years, and has held offices in the lodge for about 20 years in all.

sent them to Appleton members. The entertainment committee is also busy on a program of musical numbers. Reservations have been made in increasing numbers since Appleton members learned of the reputation of the speaker, Allen D. Albert, whose address is on the subject, "Forces That Make Cities." They consider that when so many people outside Appleton are coming long distances to hear him, he must be an exceptional man. He has had such a marked influence for community betterment in places where he has appeared that enthusiasm for more attractive cities are soon to seek his advice.

Urges City Program

It is Mr. Albert's aim to stir up the people of a city to get busy on a program. They are urged to study their community thoroughly from several different standpoints and to find out what things are lacking. These are to be shaped into a program of effort and steps taken to carry them out. Once you have this, he says the city will "have a ladder instead of a lumber pile. Its people will shortly be climbing it."

Believing that with four bowling alleys added the club can entertain the state Elk bowling tournament, a committee consisting of James H. Ballet, H. L. Davis and Dr. C. J.
